California to make his permanent residence here. Of primary importance in the investigation of SIEGEL, et.al., is the Circle J Ranch in Newhall. Indications have been received from several sources that this is a hang-out for important Eastern mobsters. Arrangements will be made with persons in the locality to attempt to cover some of the traffic at this spot. It is felt that harboring cases might be made at this point because the allegation has been made that SIEGEL harbored [REDACTED] at this place. b7c

8 BUGSY and VIRGINIA HILL spent a considerable amount of time at the Mission Motel and it is contemplated that investigation will be undertaken to determine what their interests are at this point. It may be that narcotics or prostitution or both are carried on at this place. The main objective of the Los Angeles Field Division at the present time is to develop an informant who will be in a position to give this office coverage of subject's activities such as Agent [REDACTED] is obtaining in Las Vegas. b7c

In talking to Agent [redacted] December 18, 1946 it was learned that the Bureau has authorized technicals on the new Wire Service as well as on the four long-distance lines of the old club. b7c

Not much is occurring in the rooms occupied by SIEGEL and HILL. He is putting all his time in on the Flamingo Hotel. SIEGEL and HILL left Las Vegas 3:30 p.m. December 18, 1946, driving their Chrysler and should arrive in Los Angeles about 10:30 p.m. They will stay at the Chateau Marmonte. The purpose of the trip is to contact JIMMIE DURANTE, who wants to take the contract at the Flamingo, but wants to have his Fridays off so he can return to Los Angeles for his radio program. SIEGEL is against this and said he would come to Los Angeles and talk it over with JIMMIE. He will probably return to Las Vegas Saturday, December 21st.

There is nothing more on the jewels. [redacted] apparently still has them and he is still in Las Vegas. b7c

False Arrest Suit for $100,000 Eiled

Jack Dragna, 32, Hollywood importer, yesterday sued three police officers for $100,000 false arrest damages.

The suit, filed in Superior Court, states that Dragna was arrested last Dec. 6 at a Hollywood fight stadium by the three officers, B. E. McClure, R. L. Meade and F. E. Drendal, and was booked on suspicion of burglary.

Dragna was not released until the following morning, he adds, when he posted a $5000 bail bond. He charges that the arrest was malicious and unwarranted and that he was not even questioned by police before his final release three days later after a brief court hearing.

Man Declares He Rejected $20,000 Bid To Kill Ragen

Alabaman Declares 'Rac- ing News Magnate's Death Due Jo Poison

CINCINNATI, Nov. 11 (AP)—Detective Chief Glenn Mers said tonight Chicago police officials would come here immediately to question a man identified as Ivan Cannon, 34, Birmingham, Ala., who said, Mers reported, that he turned down a $20,000 offer to kill James Ragen, Chicago racing news magnate who died last summer.

Mers said that the man was arrested here driving an automobile reported stolen in Alabama and would be turned over to federal authorities for possible prosecution.

The detective chief quoted the Alabaman as saying Ragen's eventual death was due to poison administered by someone who was paid $50,000.

Gave Statement To FBI

Mers said the man also declared: "The FBI agents came to my home in Birmingham and I gave them this entire statement. What they did with it I don't know."

Mers said that the man who claimed he had been a dealer in Chicago gambling houses for 10 years recounted:

"Two men approached me in a Chicago night club. They laid a sawed-off shotgun on a table together with $10,000 in cash for me to do the job. Another $10,000 was to be paid after the job was completed."

"One man was a Chicago club owner and the other a Chicago policeman."

"I turned it down."

Offered Him Auto And Driver

"They even said they had an automobile and a driver waiting for me. They figured they could trust me because I had worked so long for them."

"I'm not scared of any man walking but I didn't want the job. I was with a woman in Chicago and didn't want to mess myself up. She told me the next day about Ragen being shot and I pulled out. x x x"

"The price on Ragen's life went to $50,000 when he survived the slugs. Despite the body guard around him they got by and gave him poison. I was told a man received $50,000 for this job."

 MISCELLANEOUS INFORMATION CONCERNING

On December 30, [REDACTED] called the writer, stating that the informant and a friend of his had been at the Hollywood Knickerbocker on Sunday the 29th, when they saw a large new Cadillac sedan drive up containing two men and two women. The car bore Illinois plates 10839 and the women, upon alighting from the car, said to the men that they would "see them up in the room." The informant stated that the two men in the car were connected with the new wire service and he was most emphatic in saying that these men were engaged in some phase of the management of TA.

A wire from Chicago revealed that the above tags were issued in both 1946 and 1947 to [REDACTED] Neither the [REDACTED] knew who [REDACTED] but it is significant that the plates were issued to a Packard and when seen were on a new Cadillac.

Daily Diary

Up to Las Vegas for a gay week-end...flew via TWA with Wally Ford, who kept up a running conversation...Erigham Townsend met us at the airport in a station wagon...hurried to the gaily lighted city and stopped at Lucero's (he used to own the local spot of the same name) and ran into Ed Grauman...

Sat around with Sid for a few hours (while he had dinner) and gabbed about old times...Sid was in rare form and told a lot of stories about an old overcoat owned by Charlie Chaplin...

Then over to the El Cortez, where Manager Charles O'Brien coaxed me into being master of ceremonies for the evening's entertainment...rounded up Barbara and Sunny Turt, along with the wandering Wally Ford, and we put on a show...I think the patrons were slightly more than amazed, since everybody wanted to get into the act...anyway, we had a great deal of fun and judging by the laughs from the customers, everybody in the room did likewise...

A mad race to the Flamingo, the most fabulous gambling casino and hotel ever constructed...

...honestly, I don't believe there are sufficient adjectives to describe this magnificent spa...it's like a fairylane—a place that might have been dreamed up by Walt Disney...the gardens, the entrance way and the buildings are, to use a corny phrase, "out of this world"—they are lush, plush and fantastic...and, strangely enough, all in excellent taste...

Reports are that almost six million dollars will have been used when the hotel is complete (in March, perhaps) for this place...aside from the sheer beauty of the bar, the dining room and the casino, it features no less than Jimmy Durante as the floor show star and Xavier Cugat's orchestra...an adequate line to explain came from one of America's best-dressed women: "I'm afraid to go to the powder room; I look so shabby..."

$5,000,000 super-colossal saloon opens in Las Vegas

By ALINE MOSBY

LAS VEGAS, Nev., Dec. 31.—The world's most super-colossal saloon, the $5,000,000 Flamingo Club, is open for business. It ought to be. They've been having official openings every night for a week.

Hollywood style, every "opening night" a different crew of great people fly up from Hollywood for the festivities in the junior size Taj Mahal. Of gambling, liquor and publicity there should be plenty.

The backers of this colossus in the desert are Benjamin (Bugsy) Siegel, who police once thought was the West Coast head of "Murder, Inc.," Harry Robbins, vice president of the American Distillers Company of Peoria, Ill.; Billy Wilkerson, publisher of a movie trade journal, the Hollywood Reporter, and ~~Joe~~ Joe ~~Rome~~, a Hollywood lawyer.

Local townfolk were a little worried about Bugsy's past connections. But when all the violin cases packed into the place on opening nights turned out to hold real violins, the solid citizens trooped in to take a squint at the mighty Flamingo. Bugsy runs the casino, and here in Nevada it's legal.

The only other outside gambler who has moved to Nevada is Guy McAfee, who came up here from Los Angeles, left his bodyguard at home, and prospered. Now he has a million dollar gambling hall and is a regular contributor to the Community Chest.

The Flamingo is built to make private contributions to the bar and roulette wheels easy. Hardened movie characters who've been reared on sets like Shangri-La or Baghdad were awed.

It's modernistic-modernistic. The bushes outside light up red and blue and at the right end of the beige-and-brown club sits a green lake full of red flamingoes.

A little farther to the right is the Nevada desert, where the bushes don't light up, there are lakes, and the closest thing to a flamingo is a coyote.

The bar, which is as big as the dinner check, is full of mirrors, green leather walls, a black ceiling and tomato red furniture. In Siegel's casino you help the other customers pass $100,000 each night across the blackjack, roulette and dice tables.

Just five years ago, Benny the Bug, awaiting trial on charges of rubbing out a New York thug, got the Los Angeles jail physician suspended for serving him steak and pheasant. But that diet is legal at the Flamingo, and you get it for $6 and up with Xavier Cugat's band at one end of the dining room and a glass wall covered with green fish at the other.

We sampled Bugsy's steak, along with commuting customers George Jessel, George Raft and his pal, "Killer Gray," who lost $700 at roulette (we felt worse losing $4); Charles Coburn, who waited three hours for his dinner, and Vivian Blaine, who lost a purple plume from her pink hat in the crowds of first nighters.

Wilkerson, a sad-eyed gent with a square face and graying mustache, said he figured movie people would swarm by hundreds to his hostelry.

"You know," he sighed, surveying acres of dancers, drinkers and gamblers, "when we started to build this thing I thought it would be too small."

The Civilian Production Administration, a more cautious group, thought it would be too big, when veterans couldn't build homes. They said six, but Wilkerson & Co. waved a building permit made out before the commercial construction ban under the CPA's nose. Work proceeded on the colossal pub.

The Clark County commissioners clacked the club's gambling license despite the purple past of Siegel, who danced in and out of courts and then became the pal-about-Hollywood of many players.

Under the rouse that the writer is seeking the whereabouts of Bureau

[REDACTED] and BENJAMIN "BUGSY" SIEGEL.

Previous to the showing of the photographs to [REDACTED] was very apprehensive, repeatedly asking the writer what he wanted to know. Upon being

[REDACTED] and SIEGEL, advising that [REDACTED] appearances were not the same as the photograph. He added that he knew SIEGEL very well [REDACTED]

b7c

It was explained to [REDACTED] that the above individuals are known to [REDACTED] because they are possibly in the narcotic racket and [REDACTED] being a known user of opium has come in contact with them. [REDACTED] advised that he had always heard from various sources that SIEGEL was "a knocker of the narcotic racket" and that he had no personal knowledge of SIEGEL ever handling narcotics. He added that [REDACTED] SIEGEL was in the liquor racket.

b7c

The writer then asked [REDACTED] if it were not logical for SIEGEL to knock the narcotic racket if he, SIEGEL, were in it. [REDACTED] added that it would be very logical for SIEGEL to knock narcotics if he were in the racket, but [REDACTED] claimed again that he had never heard SIEGEL handling narcotics. It was explained to [REDACTED] [REDACTED] was known by everyone to be in the narcotic racket and inasmuch as SIEGEL had been his associate certainly SIEGEL had had some connection with narcotics. [REDACTED] answered that he personally had no knowledge that [REDACTED] had ever handled narcotics and did not know that SIEGEL had been

[REDACTED] advised that he has always liked SIEGEL and that SIEGEL is known to be associated with many legitimate persons. He asked the writer if [REDACTED] and GEORGE BART were not considered to be legitimate and the writer was non-committal. [REDACTED] advised that he would not go so far as to say that SIEGEL was engaged in illegal activities at this point, but added that certainly SIEGEL "was tough" and was in the rackets. b7c

[REDACTED] was advised that no further discussion would be had with him concerning underworld activities if he were to talk to other people and he immediately advised that he certainly would be foolish to let anyone know that he was being contacted by Bureau Agents because members of the underworld would feel that he was furnishing information to the Bureau. In this connection he added that he liked SIEGEL and that at this point he did not care to furnish any information concerning him because even though he knew SIEGEL was carrying on "in the rackets" he "liked him." [REDACTED] explained this relationship further, advising that there is certain association between persons which is unexplainable and that the writer could consider SIEGEL as possibly "a prostitute who was operating illegally but still is liked." However, he added that [REDACTED] activities should be thoroughly checked by the Bureau because apparently he has no gainful occupation and has a lot of money. He expressed a feeling of animosity towards [REDACTED] and when the writer explained [REDACTED] that possibly [REDACTED] was making his money from bookmaking and gambling [REDACTED] indicated that [REDACTED] could not possibly make the money he is making gambling. b7c

RE: [REDACTED]

The writer advised [REDACTED] that the information which he possessed concerning hoodlums and their backgrounds would be of great value to the Bureau if he were willing to furnish such information and [REDACTED] advised that he was always willing to assist Bureau Agents but that there were certain conditions and relationships with members of the underworld which would not allow him to be "a stool pigeon". He stated that he not only knew many individuals in the underworld, but had many other legitimate contacts and associates. [REDACTED] b7c

In this connection [REDACTED] stated that he would be willing to meet with the writer at any time and assist in anyway possible; however, he cautioned the writer that there were certain situations about which he could not furnish information because his position might be jeopardized because certain members of the underworld had entrees which could assist them in knowing that he was furnishing such to the Government. b7c

Memo of a Girl Friday

Dear Mr. W.: Elliott Roosevelt, who rated $750 per lecture, is being offered at $1700. Douglas Fairbanks' widow (Lady Ashley-Bianchi) and Bette Hutton's used to be (Bob Sweeney) have resumed dates. The V. Sardi, Jr., were unwound at Las Vegas. They say once the dress (cleaned out again after dropping $500,000 in a long losing session), will go to work managing a Nevada gaming salon. Do you believe the buzz that Hissomier, the Mayor, may not run again? They say he wants to settle on the coast where he can be an exec. Neville Wallace is the name of the Park Avenue socialite who may wed into the Irving Berlin family. Everyone is wondering about Garbo's new interest. Can't use his name yet.

La Guardia now regrets altering Sixth Avenue to "Avenue of the Americas." In a broadcast he used the name twice and drowned it, adding "takes up too much radio time." The Larry Bests will be four next month... A rumor around mortician circles is that Jim Farley has invested in a chain of undertaking places! The plan is to make it a coast-to-coast business. NBC announcers have a private affair. "The Feedback Club." All members are "vice-presidents." They pay $5 monthly into a kitty, which goes for parties and food (and does away with hat-passing collections) when one marries or passes on. Is the wedding ring ringling Halles were the tip off that she is secretly Mrs. Robert (artistic) Coleman?

Janis Paige of the films has Art Ford the disc-jockey, spinning like a Woody Herman platter... Ask Mrs. Arthur Murray what happened at the editor's office where she bounced in, after a slick monthly mag's sister appeared? Oh, Mama Mimi! Holiday gifts sent to Germany must be marked "gifts" as a post office regulation. In German "gift" means "poison"... Dodges know that Pauline Potter (top designer at Hattie Carnegie's) is from the social register? Yes didn't... Well, here's another: Baroness Gräppenberg (franz of the Finnish minister to Sweden) has taken a job as hostess at a hotel in the Bahamas... I hear that Mrs. Tocantini is not returning from Italy. The maestro dwells in Riverdale alone.

Poor Henry Lustig ain't so poor as some people think. Real estate tells you Mr. Lustig turned down a profit of a million on only one of his many speculations. The one in the 40th

A certain columnist we know may get richer endorsing a line of bras.

Herbert Bayard Swaps and Jerry Brady advise that January 14th at Tropical Park (Miami) will include a special race, "The Romyon Memorial Purse." Also at Hialeah later. The jockeys, trainers, et al, I think, also turn over theirs... What's this about you going to Rockingham and tracks all over the nation? Jerry Brady feels sure all will be glad to help, not only once, but make it an annual event. I think that's wonderful. The bunches of

I assumed you saw that fellow's piece in which he said he never heard of "a genuine newspaperman carrying a gun"... Well, what's-his-name, who covers Headquarters (and who once sent us all that firemen's slaps) totes the highest. As I ever saw. He's been with the same paper for decades... When Kay and I get some time we'll dig up the files for the others (including editors) who carry them on the hip or in their desks, which you often paraphrased about under "Newspaperman Stuff."

Three Arrested in Signaling of Racing Results

Illustrated on Page 3, Part 1

Three men were arrested and booked on suspicion of criminal conspiracy yesterday by members of Dist. Atty. Simpson's gangster squad in an investigation that uncovered what was believed to be a scheme to signal race results from the Santa Anita grandstand to a garage a mile distant.

Two of the men were picked up in the garage, where one was using a pair of binoculars. The third suspect was seized in the grandstand while signaling, unaware that his asserted associates had been taken into custody.

Could Detect Signals

Investigators Charles Hoy and Ellis Bowers reported they were able to detect the signaler from the garage and note his description with the aid of the special binoculars, a foot and a half long, that were in the place.

The men gave the names of Felix Luczak, 32, of Cicero, Ill., who was stationed on the lower level of the garage; Jack Moran, 28, of 2627 Monmouth Ave., who was found at the binoculars, and Stanley Slenkiewicz, of Pawtucket, R.I., who was stated to be in the top of the grandstand.

They were taken to the office of Dep. Dist. Atty. Joseph Carr for questioning.

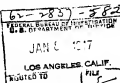

Could Beat Wires

Information transmitted by the means uncovered could be used to beat booking agents, the investigators said, pointing out that unscrupulous persons armed with the signaled data could place bets on horses that had already won.

The garage in which Luczak and Moran were found was on the premises of Mrs. Ida Haynes of 452 Huntington Drive, Arcadia.

Mrs. Haynes said that she had rented the quarters two weeks ago at $30 a week to men who professed to be working for a news service handling race results.

DATED 1-9-47

Santa Anita race signal plot nipped

Scheme to relay Santa Anita race results from the grandstand to a garage a mile away was broken up today, following the arrest of three men by district attorney's investigators.

Booked on suspicion of criminal conspiracy and later released on bail of $1500 each were:

Wojcik Luczak, 32, Cicero, Ill.; Jack Moran, 25, 2627 Monmouth Ave.; and Stanley Sienkiewicz, Pawtucket, R. I.

Pinkerton detectives from the race track and district attorney investigators found Luczak and Moran operating high power binoculars from a garage at 452 Huntington Dr., Arcadia.

Through the binoculars, trained on a spot in the grandstand near the finish line, officers said, they saw Sienkiewicz.

Sienkiewicz, it was said, signaled the finish of each race to the two men at the garage by either tipping his hat, rubbing his nose, scratching his ear, etc.

Each gesture, the raiding officers said, specified a number of a horse which was part of a pre-arranged code used by the trio.

Telephones found in the garage, arresting officers said, were used by the men to relay their information to a downtown nerve center.

The suspects denied that they were part of a post betting syndicate, explaining that they were merely employees of a scratch sheet publication which sought the race results for its clients.

Mrs. Ida Haynes, who owns the property where the garage is located, told officers she had rented the quarters to the men two weeks ago for $50 a week.

TWO BOOKIE SUSPECTS ARRESTED IN RAIDS

At least two Los Angeles followers of the ponies won't get the payoff for winning bets they'll seek today—their bets form part of the vice squad's evidence against bookie suspects.

Whitney C. Dunkley, 45, was arrested on suspicion of bookmaking at his home, 1813 Orchard St., where detectives said he was receiving bets over the telephone.

While making the arrest, a detective answered the phone, took at bet on Ike's Glory and Darby D-Day to win and show in the sixth race at Santa Anita.

The second horse won, paying $5.60 to the dollar for place bets.

The second arrest occurred at 3127 Berkeley Circle where detectives rang the bell, peeped in the window and reportedly saw Mrs. Arithella Reeve, 46, stuff some papers under her sweater.

Mrs. Reeve was arrested on suspicion of bookmaking when Policewoman G. W. Cagle, searched her and found betting forms.

The markers indicated a $200 bet to win and place on the winner of the sixth race at Tropical Park which paid $5 and $2.30.

I talked to [redacted] by phone at the track and he said that last Saturday, January 4th, his men had located HELIK JOHN LUZAK in the grandstand signaling, apparently across the track toward Huntington Drive. He was brought to the Security Office and said that he lives at 6108 West 30th, Cicero, Illinois and that he is temporarily at the Monrovia Motel Lodge on Huntington Drive, Arcadia. He admitted that he was using his program to cover the lower portion of his face, his left hand on his right ear lobe, his right hand to scratch his head as signals to some one outside the track. He also admitted that he works for some wire service, but would not say which one. He was floated off the track. He is described as follows:

Age	32
Born	8/12/14

On Tuesday, January 7, 1947, [redacted] men located STANLEY A. SIENKIEWICZ of 787 Roosevelt Avenue, Pawtucket, Rhode Island, in the stands also signaling with his hands by placing them on various portions of his head. He was taken into custody following the 3rd Race. He refused to say anything except that he is an unemployed bar keeper. He is:

Age	28
Born	10/2/18

[redacted] said that he had a tip that a house on Huntington Drive housed a lay-off bookie. He asked [redacted] to cooperate with him and [redacted] in turn told the District Attorney, who sent CHARLIE HOY and two assistants out to the track on the 7th. Scored scoops with 'scopes, police charge

Another setup to get the winners at Santa Anita to customers before they are officially announced was broken up yesterday with the arrest of a man equipped with telescopes mounted on a truck.

Arrested as he peered through two giant six-foot telescopes mounted in a canvas-covered truck parked one mile away from the track, was a man described as Boyd Koplanaky, 65, of Chicago, alias Edie Smalley.

The pinch was made by district attorney's investigators Jos Klein and Chick Cohen, who said they caught Koplanaky peering through the telescopes and talking into an inter-communication box mounted nearby.

They followed the wires, they said, to a garage and found there David Eshbach, 23, Koplanaky's son-in-law, who was talking into a telephone, 101 SANTA ANITA.

Occupants of the house told police they rented the garage to Koplanaky a few days before the Santa Anita meeting began.

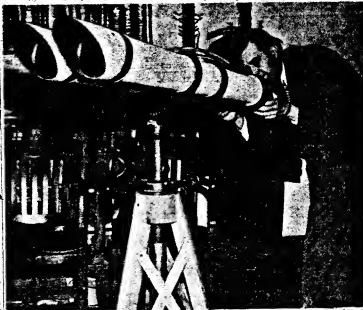

On the floor of the garage, the investigators said they found a ripped $100 check from a press service.

While all this was going on, track security officers were unsuccessfully trying to run down a man in the track stands who they said was Koplanaky's confederate.

Koplanaky, who paid a $250 fine here two years ago when he was arrested on the same charge using the same telescope, was booked on conspiracy to commit a felony.

Further this week investigators arrested three men involved in a similar scheme. One of the men, giving the signals, was arrested in the stands, and two in a garage a mile away.

Waller's report said that because of the cost of living, the purchasing power, the minimum wage, the cost of food or the price of the equivalent to the shocking figure of $240.

Phony Hero Reveals 'Bookie' Death Offer

Robert Savirino, "phony war hero" and Mocambo Club robbery suspect, told police yesterday he was offered $2500 by an unnamed person to kill Michael (Mickey) Cohen.

Cohen, a gambler, race bookie and police character, was held for the killing of Maxie Shuman in May, 1945, but released on the ground he shot Shuman in self-defense.

A year later Cohen was questioned after the Beverly Hills killing of gambler Paul J. (Polly) Gibbons.

Police said Savirino described himself as a friend of Henry (The Heathen) Ganson, central figure in the Gibbons killing investigation — Ganson was shot to death here last October.

It described him as a Congressional Medal of Honor winner and the "most decorated enlisted man in the European Theater of Operations."

Detective-Lieutenants A. C. Stromwall and J. E. Littlejohn said Savirino admitted a share in the Mocambo robbery, which netted bandits $3736 and $4917 in jewelry.

He told of the offer to kill Cohen while being questioned about other robberies, Stromwall said, and quoted Savirino as saying that "a dozen guys" had received similar offers.

According to police, Savirino said he received the offer about three weeks ago. A few days later, according to the story, two armed men forced their way into the apartment he shared with Henry F. Hassau, also held in connection with the robbery. Stromwall quoted Savirino as saying that the men "pistol-whipped" Hassau and left with the warning that "this is just the beginning if you don't behave yourselves."

Savirino and Hassau are held on suspicion of robbery along with Elijah R. Soza, and Abel Soza. The last three deny connection with the robbery.

HILL used to go with an individual, named [REDACTED] and about one and one-half years ago when HILL was going to Mexico [REDACTED]

Informant will attempt to get in touch with HILL while the latter is in Los Angeles and see what information is obtainable concerning her planned trip to Mexico. The informant recalled that when HILL was living at the pent house SIEGEL had two men in his company most of the time who were allegedly in business with him, but the informant did not know whether or not they were bodyguards nor did they particularly look like mobsters, but informant considered it significant that these men were in attendance on SIEGEL practically all of the time.

On December 30, 1946, [REDACTED] b7c b7

On January 5, 1947, Special Agent [REDACTED] and the writer conducted a surveillance and it was noted at the Texaco Station at Santa Monica and Wilshire that a 1946 black Cadillac Fleetwood Sedan was parked in the parking area and bore Illinois plates 1601-106. A teletype was dispatched to the Chicago office to verify the registration on this car. (This was confirmed by wire from Chicago. b7c

Also, Special Agent [REDACTED] will conduct inquiries at the Texas Company to determine whether or not [REDACTED] is employed at the Texas Station. A surveillance was conducted at 4324 South Wilman Drive, Los Angeles, where [REDACTED] resides. This address is right off of Burton Way and is a four-unit apartment house, [REDACTED] occupying the upper left apartment as you face the building. Appearing in the mail boxes in the lobby were the names [REDACTED] b7

In the course of this same surveillance near the residence of [REDACTED] the reporting agents observed the subject leaving his apartment, driving his new Cadillac Convertible Sedanette. This car does not yet bear plates, is blue-gray in color with a light top and red wheels. Subject turned east on Sunset and drove slowly toward the Los Angeles area. Apparently he was not in a hurry to get anywhere and the agents surveilled him for approximately twenty minutes dropping the tail and [REDACTED] kept proceeding east into the Hollywood area. b7c

UNLAWFUL FLIGHT TO AVOID PROSECUTION (Murder)
NATIONAL MOTOR VEHICLE THEFT ACT

In connection with the trial of [REDACTED] in the Los Angeles County Court, Special Agent [REDACTED] was subpoenaed and arrived at the Los Angeles Field Division on January 6, 1947. He was accompanied by two detectives from the Main Office Room of the New York Police Department. [REDACTED] both of whom were likewise subpoenaed to testify. [REDACTED] before the arrival in the Los Angeles Field Division of [REDACTED] it was brought to the attention of this office, through confidential informants, that certain of the hoodlum element had been advised of the pending arrival of these two detectives.

Agent [REDACTED] because of the fact that he had traveled from New York City to Los Angeles with the aforementioned men, took up residence with them in adjoining rooms at the Biltmore Hotel, Los Angeles. It was noted that immediately upon their arrival several telephone calls were made to [REDACTED] whose identity is well known to the Bureau. [REDACTED] and GEORGE RAFT. This office advised Agent [REDACTED] immediately of the situation so that he might govern his social actions accordingly in order not to embarrass either himself or the Bureau. Thereafter it was noted that [REDACTED] were the guests of [REDACTED] at various night clubs throughout the Beverly Hills Area, including the Savoy Restaurant, Bud Otto's, etc. It is noted that each of the above-noted restaurants is frequented by the bookmakers, gamblers and other hoodlum elements.

For the information of the Bureau, on Thursday, January 9, 1947 a conference was held in the District Attorney's Office at which Agent [REDACTED] naturally was present. At the dinner hour it was suggested by the District Attorney, [REDACTED] that each of the witnesses who were present should accompany him to dinner. A party comprised of approximately 8 people, including [REDACTED] started out to dinner. [REDACTED] suggested to the District Attorney that they allow him to take them to "a nice place to eat". [REDACTED] agreed to this and all the members of the group were taken by [REDACTED] to the Savoy Restaurant, which is located on the Sunset Strip in the Beverly Hills Area. Upon arriving there it was noted by the Agent that [REDACTED] the District Attorney, was reluctant to meet either of the owners, [REDACTED] advised the Agent that he had prosecuted [REDACTED] a few years before and that he was rather embarrassed by the situation. The indices of this office reflect that [REDACTED] is a well-known gambler and an associate of GEORGE RAFT. [REDACTED] The agent was introduced to these two men as [REDACTED] but it is not known whether or not [REDACTED] advised them of the Agent's affiliation with the F.B.I. At dinner that night [REDACTED] was approached by [REDACTED] who is known to be closely associated with GEORGE RAFF and the agent was introduced to him, also as [REDACTED] well-known gambler, also visited [REDACTED] at the table but was not introduced to the agent. b7c

On Monday, January 13th, Agent [REDACTED] testified at the trial of [REDACTED]. When his testimony was concluded, during the recess he was approached by a man who identified himself as [REDACTED] and advised the Agent that he had been impressed with his testimony and made general conversation concerning New York City. He advised the Agent that he knew both [REDACTED] from New York and also stated that he knew the Director and Mr. CLYDE TOLSON, having accompanied them to the opening of the Del Mar Race Track in San Diego County. [REDACTED] It was later learned, is an associate of [REDACTED] and GEORGE RAFF, who is engaged in bookmaking activities in and around Los Angeles. b7c

It is to be noted that the dinner at the Savoy Restaurant was the only time Agent [REDACTED] accompanied these two detectives socially. It was noted that the name of [REDACTED] was mentioned several times by these detectives and it was learned that as soon as the trial of [REDACTED] ended that [REDACTED] intended to go to San Francisco for several days, possibly as [REDACTED] guests. b7c

On several occasions Detectives [REDACTED] advised Agent [REDACTED] that they would like to have Agent accompany them to dinner and to various night clubs, but that because of the type of people that they associated with they thought it might embarrass the Agent and the Bureau if he were to be seen in the company of these various underworld characters. b7c

On Friday Night, January 17th, the jury found [REDACTED] guilty of murder in the first degree, but recommended that he get life imprisonment instead of the gas chamber. Upon return to the Hotel Room, [REDACTED] expressed their disappointment at the verdict to Agent [REDACTED] and advised him that they considered their trip to California a failure. Upon being questioned as to why they felt this way, [REDACTED] told the Agent that not only had they failed to send [REDACTED] to the gas chamber but that they had failed to arrest a character for whom they had been looking in Los Angeles. [REDACTED] explained that the person they sought was one [REDACTED] against whom an indictment has been returned in New York City charging him with grand theft. [REDACTED] explained that [REDACTED] was a well known con man, who had been known to associate with many of the hoodlums and underworld characters that [REDACTED] had been contacting b7c

Director, FBI

Re: [REDACTED] WAS

Set here. [REDACTED] advised that he was sure that if [REDACTED] had been in the Los Angeles Area that the various hoodlums he was contacting, many of whom he explained he had previously arrested in New York City, would have furnished him information as to [REDACTED] whereabouts. On Sunday Night, January 19th, [REDACTED] were the guests of GEORGE RAFT at dinner and when they returned brought RAFT to the hotel room. Agent [REDACTED] was introduced to RAFT and for a period of several hours general conversation was had concerning New York City and various mutually known New York City Police Officers as well as various big cases in the New York Area. As Raft was about to leave the hotel room [REDACTED] exhibited to him a picture of [REDACTED] which RAFT readily identified. A private conversation was had between [REDACTED] and RAFT, the result of which was not known, although it is believed that [REDACTED] may have received information as to [REDACTED] whereabouts from RAFT. b2

For the information of the Bureau, RAFT advised the two detectives and agent that [REDACTED] was formerly a masseur for prize fighters in New York City, who had contacted RAFT when he came out to the coast in the early 1930's. RAFT advised that he had hired [REDACTED] as a masseur and that when RAFT became successful in pictures that he had kept [REDACTED] with him on a full time basis. RAFT also advised that he considered [REDACTED] extremely harmless and told the following story as to how [REDACTED] had gotten his nickname. One night at a party in Hollywood which was attended by various film celebrities, CAROLE LOMBARD was asking why he was so quiet. [REDACTED] replied that he had a hernia which was killing him. Miss LOMBARD thereupon commented that the Jewish word for hernia was killeh (phonetic) and started calling [REDACTED] RAFT advised that the publicity men at the studio for which he was then working played up this nickname and the fact that [REDACTED] was his bodyguard to the point where people who did not know the real story took it seriously. b2

[REDACTED] also explained to the agent that word had been sent out by him to one [REDACTED] an investigator for the Los Angeles County District Attorney's Office, to the effect that [REDACTED] was badly wanted by the New York Police Department and requesting [REDACTED] to attempt to ascertain [REDACTED] whereabouts. [REDACTED] advised that he was attempting to find out what had happened inasmuch as [REDACTED] had advised [REDACTED] that investigation had been unsuccessful and yet [REDACTED] himself had learned from other sources there was a possibility that [REDACTED] was in the Los Angeles Area when [REDACTED] had been advised that he was wanted and had fled immediately thereafter. It should be noted that both [REDACTED] are of the opinion that [REDACTED] is the contact man for the District Attorney's Office of Los Angeles County, acting as a liaison agent between the underworld and the District Attorney. In this b2 regard it should be noted that on the night that agent and a party accompanied [REDACTED] to the Savoy Restaurant one of the members of the party was a girl known to the agent only as [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] for the information of the Bureau is presently the District Attorney for the County of Los Angeles, having replaced [REDACTED] who is now Attorney General for the State of California. [REDACTED] it was ascertained, was formerly [REDACTED] Secretary and it was noted by the agent that she seemed well acquainted with all of the various underworld characters that were met upon that occasion. b7c

For the information of the San Francisco Office, [REDACTED] left for San Francisco on the 4 o'clock plane on January 20, 1947. [REDACTED] who had been attached to the United Nations Conference for a period of seven months contacted and [REDACTED] (phonetic), who it is believed is an inspector on the San Francisco Police Department and whom [REDACTED] met when he was attached to the United Nations Conference. Re: BENJAMIN "BUGS" SIEGEL, w.as.

[REDACTED] b2

He said on his recent trip to Cuba he stopped in Miami and had breakfast with WALTER WINCRELL and they discussed the Flamingo and WINCRELL said that Mr. HOOVER told him that the place was going broke. [REDACTED] has picked up the same information from other people that the place is not doing well and that they may close the Casino until the Hotel opens in March or April. [REDACTED] that LUCKY LUCIANNO is in Cuba and while this is supposed to be a secret he supposed that the fact is becoming pretty well known.
